

NEW MILLINERY MODES

OUTLINE OF HATS FOLLOWS
OUTLINES OF SKIRTS.

Smart Toques of Last Season Are No Longer Seen—Latest Ideas Seen in Paris Are in the Smartest of Styles.

Everyone has been wondering what kind of hats or toques we are going to wear with the new dresses with the full skirts which measure from six to eight yards round the hem and the picturesque coatees which recall the styles of olden times, writes Italia de Villers in the Boston Globe.

It was of course evident that the ultra-smart toques of last season would be quite out of place in these altered circumstances. The outline of last summer, and indeed of last autumn too, was distinctly saucy. The underdresses were so short, and narrow and the tunics so long and wide.

With these costumes velvet forage caps and high toques which looked rather like inverted jam pots, looked quite the right thing. We have to look for a change of outline where our hats are concerned since the outline of our skirts has been changed so completely.

Some of the new millinery models are very charming. I visited Caroline Reboux' beautiful show-rooms in the Rue de la Paix and I was delighted with the models exhibited there. Re-boux has always been noted for her elegant styles. She has never gone in for eccentricities, or toques which look like the birettas worn by priests, only that they are very low. These quaint models are trimmed with very long plumes or culture feathers which stick out at the back in an agreeable way. When these toques are correctly worn, pressed down over the hair, they are immensely smart; they look particularly well with the new short, full skirts and sack coatees.

The Reboux toque sketched was composed of raven's wing-blue velvet and trimmed with a trail of mixed flowers. Some of the blossoms were in penuria and dull blue silk; others were in oxidized silver and gold gauze.

A little later on we shall find floating ribbons in velvet and satin applied to Tuscan and Leghorn hats.

IN WHITE AND GREEN

This Charming Toilette of White Taffetas Glace Has a Loosely-Fitting Skirt With an Applied Flounce of Graceful Lines Forming a Deep Point in Front—The Simple Corset Has a Wide Medici Collar of Lace—Two Large Medallions Embroidered in Shades of Green Decorate the Waist, Giving a Delightful Touch of Color Which is Repeated on the Hat.

Reboux: the small hat in preference to the smart toque. One model, composed of ivory white faille, was of an old-world shape; the brim was flat and it dipped at the front and back.
It was not a large hat and the soft silk crown was circled by a wreath of dull pink carnations and maidenhair fern. Here and there some feathery grasses, quite black, gave a note of somber color.

Net for Little Girls.

Some lovely afternoon frocks for little girls are made of white wash net. The fabric is simple, yet is light and delicate enough to have a certain "party" air loved by children.
One frock prettily developed in white net is made with a three-flounced skirt, a single rose fastened on each flounce. The bodice is made of a ruffle, like those on the skirts, garnered in about the waist line to form a full little peplum, and the sleeves, too, are narrow ruffles of net. It is all very simple but very pretty.

Smart Linen Waists.

Very smart, indeed, are the semi-tailored models of fine quality linen, says the Dry Goods Economist. While these waists follow the lines of the tailored styles they are often made in designs which are a compromise between the tailored and the dressy styles. In most cases the sleeves of the linen models are long, while the collars are semihigh and slightly upstanding in the back and low in front.

New Toque by Reboux of Raven's Wing-Blue Velvet With a Spray of Oxidized Silver, Gold, Petunia and Dull Blue Flowers.

Many of the new sailor shapes are finished off with similar ribbons, for merely sensational fashions. A "Re-boux hat" has always a cachet of its own. It is distinctly Parisian in outline as well as detail. Many of the models which I saw were intended for the Riviera season. They were expressed in black velvet, raven'swing-blue faille, satin straw in many rich colors and in many other materials.

The small hat reigns supreme chez

SHAMPOO FOR SMALL CHILD

Proper Materials and Efficient Method Are the Vital Points to Be Considered.

Many an overburdened mother has gladly turned over the task of sham-pooring the youngsters to the elder sister, who really deserves the title of the family beauty doctor. Not only is this a relief to the mother, but it is an excellent thing for the children, as few mothers have either the knowledge or the time properly to shampoo two or three bobbling little heads.
Great harm is done the hair by slovenly or too strenuous shampooing. In the one case, harsh alkalis or unclean-ly soaps remain in the hair, and in the other too drastic substances are employed for cleansing the hair of oil and dust.

The beauty doctor takes the rebellious little patient to the bathroom, throws a combing cape of Turkish towel over the bare shoulders, and folds another small Turkish towel on the edge of the stationary washstand for the patient to rest her chin on.
In a bowl close at hand she has ready the yolk of one egg, beaten thoroughly, with one pint of warm rain water and an ounce of rosemary spirits. The egg will remove dandruff and the excessive oil in the hair. Rosemary leaves behind a pleasant perfume. Dipping both hands into the shampoo mixture, she works it into the scalp, rubbing thoroughly with the finger tips. When the scalp is saturated and the dandruff is loosened, she has the patient rest her chin on the folded towel, and the rinsing begins. The hair is not washed its full length, but the shampoo, as it is washed down, cleanses the hair.

A rubber tube, which can be adjusted to any pipe, and which has a perforated spray nozzle, is useful for rinsing, and warm, not hot nor cold, water should be used. The right hand directs the flow of the water, and the left is held at the base of the brain or on the forehead to prevent the water from running down the back or into the eyes.

Soft, warm towels are used for patting the hair dry. It should never be rubbed violently. Then it is fanned.
Drying in the sun makes the hair lighter in tint, but this often induces headache.

The beauty doctor understands scalp massage, and knows that the mere rotary movement of the finger tips over the scalp is not sufficient, but the scalp must be loosened from the skull, because if the scalp fits too tightly to the skull the hair cannot grow.

Bolero and Zouave Jackets.
The bolero and zouave jackets, both usually becoming, are employed in many spring frocks. They are especially pretty when they are used in the thin frocks of net, organdie, batiste or other summer fabrics, for then they are usually elaborated with frilling or embroidery.

Popular Gray.

Gray is one of the most popular shades of the spring. It is cool and when it is becoming is really charming. But there are many types of face and color that cannot stand gray; and it should be worn, especially in the paler shades, only after careful thought.

Bringing Sunshine to the Darkest Day

He Knew Daddy.

The eight-year-old son of a famous lawyer was one day taken by his governess to a court of law in which his father was expected to make a particularly brilliant speech.

"Mother, I heard father make a fine speech today," said the boy on his return home. "And what do you think?
Father almost cried, and he made some of the jurymen cry, too!"
"And you, too?" asked his mother.
"Oh, no—he can't get over me!" replied the heir and pride of the family.

How "Sam" Registered.

Not far from Lexington lives a young farmer, "Sam" Woolridge, who found occasion to stop at the Phoenix, in Lexington. Just before Mr. Wool-ridge registered, James B. Haggin of New York, owner of the beautiful Elmendorf stock farm, walked to the desk and wrote: "James B. Haggin and Valet, New York."

Mr. Woolridge was the next to register, and this is what he wrote: "Sam Woolridge and Valise, Versailles."

JOKE WAS ON INVESTIGATOR

He Had an Idea It Was on Restaurant Proprietor, but It Turned Out Otherwise.

The late Norman B. Hearn, the organizer of the steel trust and many other important corporations, once said to a New York reporter about a trust investigation:

"Maybe these investigations will have the same luck as the game warden."

"A game warden heard that a restaurant was serving a game out of season. He disguised himself with a false beard, visited the place and ordered a pheasant.

"The pheasant, delicately high like roquefort cheese, as well as all good pheasant should be, was served to the game warden, and he devoured it to the last morsel, at the same time inflicting severe punishment on a bottle of rare old Burgundy—for the state, of course, paid for it all.

"At the end of his repast the game warden summoned the proprietor and said:

"I arrest you, sir, in the name of the law!"
"The proprietor's mouth opened in astonishment. He swallowed two or three times, then he gasped:
"—What for?"
"For serving me a pheasant out of season," said the game warden.

"A look of relief appeared on the proprietor's face.

"Oh," he said, "that wasn't pheasant. It was crow."

Plan Humane Sunday in May.

The American Humane association, a federation of societies and individuals for the prevention of cruelty, requests clergymen of all denominations throughout the country to observe Sunday, May 25, as Humane Sunday, calling attention to the need for protection for suffering and helpless children, and also for unfortunate animals.

Dr. Wm. O. Stillman, president of the association, Albany, N. Y., will send literature to all persons interested in the work of humane societies.

Her Patience Wearing Out.

Little Lola had been censured for some mischief she had been engaged in. After thinking it over for some time she exclaimed: "Oh, I do wish I had a baby brother!"
"Why do you wish that?"
"Cause," she replied, "this thing of being scolded for everything that happens around this house makes me tired."

Polarine

You Always Have That Film of Oil

Lubrication begins the instant the motor starts if you use POLARINE.

POLARINE flows at zero, and maintains the correct lubricating body at any motor speed or temperature.

Last year (1914) American motorists used 6,929,614 gallons of POLARINE —2309 carloads! Conclusive evidence that drivers get service and save motoring trouble by using POLARINE.

Buy it in barrels or half barrels and cut down up-keep cost.
You can make a big saving.

160 Acre Homesteads are Actually Free to Settlers and Other Land at From $15 to $20 per Acre

The people of European countries as well as the American continent must be fed — thus an even greater demand for Canadian Wheat will keep up the price. Any farmer who can buy land at $15.00 to $20.00 per acre — get a dollar for wheat and raise 20 to 45 bushels to the acre is bound to make money — that's what you can expect in Western Canada. Wonderful yields also of Oats, Barley and Flax. Mixed Farming is fully as profitable an industry as grain raising. The excellent grasses, full of nutrition, are the only food required either for beef or dairy purposes. Good schools, markets convenient, climate excellent.

Military service is not compulsory in Canada but there is an unusual demand for farm labor to replace the many young men who have volunteered for service in the war.
